Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly May.

The idyllic and historic Bronx Valley, sympathetically described by one of its residents, Dr. Peter MacQuay, and illustrated with a score of charming views, occupies with verisimilitude the front place in FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY for May. Another timely paper, bearing as does upon the question of a National Quarantine for the United States, and graphic sketch of "Caribbean" experience, by Henry Drummond, Herbert of Muckness. An exciting narrative of the ascent of Mount Everest is accompanied by numerous views of the great Sielhan volcano, and its recent eruption. Among the other illustrated articles are "The World Fair Fisheries Exhibit," by Chas. Bradford Hudson; an entertaining account of Chinese cuisine and restaurant life in Mott Street, New York, by that vivacious journalist, Don S. "Persian Pottery," by James B. the eminent Orientalist, and "Carnivorous Plants," by Colonel Nicolas. The department of fiction includes an exquisite story by Paul Bourget, author of "Cosmopolis," entitled "Griffi."

A Strong Testimonial.

Drs. Seabright and Jones are doing some wonderful cures of opium and whisky habit, and publish below a testimonial from one who verily snatched from the grave. It is absolutely no doubt as to efficacy of this treatment, and doctors guarantee a cure or no. Read the testimonial.

WACO, Tex., Feb. 16, 1893.
I was a habitual user of opium over twelve years, and had become a physical and mental wreck, and could have lived but a short time. After taking the vegetable treatment of Drs. Seabright and Jones, of this city, I began the treatment January 1 and improved from the first. Twelve days afterwards quit the use of opium entirely. I have since gained rapidly in flesh, strength, mind, and have no desire whatever for opium. I suffered no pain whatever. I am perfectly well satisfied that treatment is superior to all others. They guarantee a cure in all cases. I refer all interested to L. C. Matthews, Dr. Howell, Dr. Mullens, Dr. Matthews, E. E. Bailey and Dr. Jones who saw me either before or immediately after commencing treatment.
